Safety Requirements: The practice of cosmetology, nail technology, and esthiology involves the use of sharp implements as well as chemicals that could be hazardous. Attention to proper safety procedures, which protect both client and technician, are very important, and will be taught during the course.

Physical Demands: The physical demands for instructors are primarily the extensive use of the hands and the long periods of standing which are required for some services.

Compensation: According to the United States Department of Labor, salon professionals can average up to $50,000 per year including tips. Some of the main factors that determine income include the size and location of the salon, hours worked, the tipping habits of clients and competition from other salons and shops. A cosmetologist’s ability to bring in and maintain regular clients is another factor in determining potential earnings. According to the US Department of Labor, many cosmetologists and other personal appearance workers receive commissions based on the price of the service, or they earn a salary based on hours worked. Others in this industry are self-employed. Nearly every professional in the cosmetology industry receives tips and commissions for the products they sell. Some salons pay bonuses to employees who bring in new business.

According to the US Department of Labor, employment of hairdressers, hairstylists, cosmetologists, skin care specialists, manicurists, pedicurists and shampooers is projected to grow 13% through year 2026.
